DETAILED ACTION

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Response to Arguments

2. Claims 15, 22, 25-28, and 33-34 remain rejected, and claims 48-57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention, for the reasons of record set forth in the Official Action mailed 8-15-01.

Applicant's arguments filed 8-08-2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants traverse the instant rejection by way of amending claim 15 to exclude the antibody directed to RCNL-1, such that amended claims 15 and 22 encompass antibodies against human renal nuclear matrix proteins and immunogenic fragments thereof, and canceling claims 29 and 33-34. Moreover, Applicants argue that this rejection has been obviated and rendered moot by means of Applicant's amendment.

Contrary to Applicant's assertions, Applicants have not specifically addressed the pending rejection. Applicants have amended the instant claims to recite antibodies directed against "a renal nuclear matrix protein or an immunogenic fragment thereof," however it remains that the specification as filed does not provide a sufficient written description of the claimed invention, in particular Applicants have not clearly defined structurally, the immunogenic fragments of the renal nuclear matrix proteins according to the present invention.

Art Unit: 1635

As stated in the prior Office Action, antibodies of the present invention include those that are capable of binding to (immunogenic) fragments of the renal matrix proteins of the present invention, wherein said fragment encompasses isolated fragments, and fragments of the claimed proteins embedded within another protein. The specification provides insufficient written description to support the genus of antibodies encompassed by the instant claims. Other than a range of iso-electric points (pI; for example, "about 9.30"), and range of molecular weights (for example, "about 53 kD"), the instant claims do not recite any particular structural amino acid sequence information that may be associated with the genus of polypeptides encompassed by the claimed invention.

See the January 5, 2001 (Vol. 66, No. 4, pages 1099-1111) Federal Register for the Guidelines for Examination of Patent Applications Under the 35 USC 112 ¶ 1, "Written Description" Requirement. These guidelines state that: "To satisfy the written description requirement, a patent specification must describe the claimed invention in sufficient detail that one skilled in the art can reasonably conclude that the inventor had possession of the claimed invention. An applicant shows possession of the claimed invention by describing the claimed invention with all of its limitations using such descriptive means as words, structures, figures, diagrams, and formulas that fully set forth the claimed invention. Possession may be shown in a variety of ways including description of an actual reduction to practice, or by showing that the invention was "ready for patenting" such as by the disclosure of drawings or structural chemical formulas that show that the invention was complete, or by describing distinguishing identifying characteristics sufficient to show that applicant was in possession of the claimed invention."

aÌ,

In the instant case, further experimentation is required to identify the immunogenic fragments of the renal nuclear matrix proteins of the present invention, and furthermore to identify the antibodies targeting these fragments. Therefore, Applicants have not demonstrated possession of the full scope of the claimed invention since further experimentation is required and it does not appear that the claimed invention as a whole was "ready for patenting" at the time of filing of the present invention.

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
